NLRB Chief Is Opposed by Labor

By JOHN LENDEL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has announced his choice for chief federal union officer in company-worker disputes.

A Chicago lawyer who has specialized in representing management.

Strong labor opposition is expected against congressional approval of Edward B. Miller, 47, for chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

Secretary of Labor George F. Shultz, who met with Nixon before the Miller announcement Wednesday, said the administration wants a "reasonable" NLRB and this can best be done by staffing it with reasonable people.

Miller said his labor relations work had been "exclusively with management." He had been offered legal assignments by labor unions, but declined them, he said, because they would have created a conflict of interest.

A newsmen asked Miller if he thought the NLRB has been unreasonable.

"Even reasonable men can differ," he answered, adding he would not characterize recent boards as unreasonable. Shultz said he agreed with Miller.

Could he fairly assess the legitimate views of organized labor, Miller was asked. His answer: A board member should not look at each case "as a battle to be won. The real name of the game is to find some basis for agreement."

Miller is nominated for a five-year term on the board, replacing Sam Zagoria, who has been under attack by congressional critics who charge the NLRB with pro-union bias. If the nomination is approved, Nixon said, Miller will be designated chairman, succeeding Frank W. McCulloch.

According to figures on record at the Pentagon, this would be an increase of less than 200 missiles in 21 months. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird had estimated the Soviet ICBM force as of March 1969 at "more than 1,000."

Some of the cautious optimism with which SALT had been approached may now be diminishing. Somehow, at the moment, the obstacles seem more stubborn than ever. Not the least of these is the severe clash of Soviet-American interests in the Middle East.

SALT could go ahead independently of other specific problems, but there now seems to be a direct link between the prospects and the Middle East.

There are other obstacles. Moscow professes to see the U.S. aim as worldwide anti-Sovietism to break up alliances and subvert the Soviet system. The Americans react with deep suspicion to official Soviet statements orienting Moscow's policy directly to spreading Communist influence.

Soviet Missile Production Has Slowed

WASHINGTON (AP) — If U.S. administration predictions hold true, the rate of missile construction by the Soviet Union will have slowed substantially by the end of 1970.

This long-term trend shows up in an examination of Soviet ICBM deployments over the past three years and could become a significant factor in U.S. plans for antiballistic missile defenses in coming months.

In his State of the World message Wednesday, President Nixon said the Russians are expected to have 1,290 land-based missiles capable of reaching the United States by the end of the year.

President, while expressing hope for better Soviet-American relations, seemed to reflect puzzlement about Moscow's aims. The Russians, though they profess hope for "positive" results from SALT, are restating their belief that the United States is in the grip of a militarized economy which bodes ill for peace.

First Soviet reaction to the speech noted that the President "reaffirmed the government's decision to press ahead with the second section of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system and build up U.S. nuclear potential."

But the President noted that his proposed expansion of Safeguard should be regarded as the best immediate response to a significant Soviet buildup.

The issues at SALT will be clear enough. The superpowers have sufficient potential to blast one another back into the Stone Age. This means that if the chances of a major conflict are as small as 1,000 to 1, that is too big a risk.

Some of the cautious optimism with which SALT had been approached may now be diminishing. Somehow, at the moment, the obstacles seem more stubborn than ever. Not the least of these is the severe clash of Soviet-American interests in the Middle East.

Will Ask for Additional Prison Money

By ROBERT SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rockefeller administration's request of a special legislative session for almost $2 million in prison funds likely will be revised upward to begin financing reforms ordered Wednesday by federal District Judge J. Smith Henley.

The state Board of Correction came before the Arkansas Legislative Council with its request Wednesday about two hours before Henley handed down his ruling.

Correction Commissioner C. Robert Sarver said that in view of Henley's decision the legislature, which will meet next month, probably will be asked for additional funds above the $2 million to begin implementing the changes Henley wants.

Robert W. Faulkner, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's executive secretary, said administration and prison officials would meet by the first of next week to decide what to do.

He said he could not at this point talk in terms of possible legislation.

Henley gave prison officials until April 1 to file a plan of his proposals to change the prisons. He also set a tentative date for completion of the transition as August 1971.

John Haley of Little Rock, Correction Board chairman, said that without additional financing at the special session the board could not give Henley much assurance that prison conditions would improve.

"We're hopeful that the legislature will give us the wherewithal to make great strides in the time allotted by the courts to correct the conditions," Haley said.

Haley said that with "modest tax increases" the board could report to Henley that it would correct prison conditions.

Rockefeller is asking the special session for $35 million in new taxes.

Haley said the legislature could do no more than what is possible with available state funds.

schools. Real ruled that no single school may have a minority student population exceeding 50 per cent.

The plan would realign the district's elementary schools into kindergarten through third grade; grades four through six; and grades seven through eight. This would be done on existing campuses.

A single school would serve all ninth graders for the time being.

An "Educational Park" at the present site of Pasadena High School would combine the three existing high schools with additional facilities built at a cost of $9.2 million. Thus all high school students would be educated together.

Slain Man and Friend Talked Over Tate Case

By RICHARD DAW
Associated Press Writer

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald's best friend said today they discussed the Sharon Tate ritual killings in California two days before the Army doctor's wife and two children were beaten and knifed to death at nearby Ft. Bragg.

"It's all so ironic," said Lt. Ronald Harrison, 26, of Columbus, Ohio.

Harrison revealed his conversation with MacDonald, 26, of Patchogue, N.Y., as scores of Army and civilian investigators continued the search for clues in the deaths of the pregnant Mrs. MacDonald, 26, and the two children, Kimberly, 6, and Kristen, 2.

They were found dead and MacDonald injured in their six-room apartment at Ft. Bragg early Tuesday. The word "Pigs" was scrawled in blood on the headboard of the MacDonald's bed.

MacDonald told police that the strange pre-dawn attack was carried out by a hippie-type band of three men and blonde girl. He said the girl carried a candle and murmured, "Acid is groovy; kill the pigs."

Acid is a slang term for the hallucinatory drug LSD.

Harrison, who had visited MacDonald in the Womack Army Hospital, where he is recovering from stab wounds and a bruise on the head, said in an interview the conversation about the Tate murders occurred Saturday at MacDonald's home.

Members of a hippie-type cult are accused in the Tate slayings and the word "pigs" was scrawled in blood on the door of Miss Tate's home.

"Jeff treated drug addicts and knew what the problem was like," Harrison said. "He felt they were unfortunate people."

Baptists Plan World Mission Conferences

World Missions will be the primary emphasis during World Mission Conferences that are forthcoming in almost 30 churches of the Hope Baptist Association, February 22-March 1.

The churches participating in the emphases are in Texarkana, Hope, Magnolia, Lewisville, Stamps, Waldo, Fouke and other churches in each respective county.

Beginning Sunday morning, February 22, First Baptist Church, Hope, will receive first-hand information about Foreign, Home and State Missions from these:

Sunday morning, 10:45 a.m. — Rev. J.C. Wells, New Orleans, Louisiana.

Sunday night, 7:00 p.m. — Rev. Norman Beckham from Venezuela.

Monday night, 7:00 p.m. — Joan Frisby, Ervay Street Baptist Mission, Dallas, Texas.

Tuesday night, 7:00 p.m., Ed McDonald, Jr., from the Arkansas State Baptist Office.

Wednesday night, 7:00 p.m., Rev. Melvin Wasson, Foreign Missionary to Nigeria, Africa.

Rev. M.T. McGregor, Superintendent of Missions for the Hope Baptist Association, will direct the conferences.

There will be opportunities for special conferences, and a chance to ask specific questions regarding the work on any given field.

Presbyterian Men to Get Mexican Food

Men of the First Presbyterian church and their invited guests will be served an authentic Mexican dinner Tuesday night, Feb. 24 at 6:30 o'clock, according to Crit Stuart, Jr., president of the sponsoring Men's Bible Class.

The food is being personally prepared and will be served by John Davenport of Texarkana. Mr. Davenport owns cattle ranches in southern Texas and in old Mexico where he lived for several years. Within the past year he has established a large cattle feeding operation near Texarkana. He flies his own plane to direct his various cattle enterprises. His hobby is cooking Mexican style, and those who have sampled his food are most lavish in their praise, said Mr. Stuart.

Mr. Davenport is a member — officer of the First Presbyterian church in Texarkana, Ark., and that church's new minister, the Rev. David B. Davies, will be the principal speaker Tuesday night. His subject will be "Old and New Wine Skins." Mr. Davies moved to Texarkana in June last year from Mt. Pleasant, Texas. He is a native of Morrilton, graduate of the University of Arkansas and Princeton Seminary. Another feature on the program will be the presentation of a charter to the Explorer Post 91, which is sponsored by the church. The boys will give a couple of their Indian dances. H.M. Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. TOMMY JOHNSTON

Miss Sherry Ann Dickinson and Tommy Johnston exchanged marriage vows Saturday afternoon, February 14 in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Denver L. Dickinson, Sr., of Hope are the bride's parents. Mr. Johnston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnston of Benton.

The Rev. Everett Vinson performed the ceremony before an arch covered with southern smilax and flanked by baskets of white gladiolus and jade. The choir and chancel rails were covered with smilax.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. B.C. Hyatt, organist, played a program of music by Faure, Gounod, Pfitzner, Bragan, Youmans, and Bernstein. Traditional wedding marches were used, and during the exchange of vows the Lord's Prayer by Mallott was played.

Mr. Dickinson gave his daughter in marriage. Her white birdal satin gown was fashioned with an Empire bodice and Juliet sleeves of lace with a lace chapel train sweeping from a bow at the waist. The neckline, waist and train were outlined with tiny seed pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was held with a headpiece of white peau de sole flowers. She carried a cascade of pink Sensation roses, white hyacinths, and stephanotis centered with a pink cymbidium orchid.

Miss Mary Lou Moore of Little Rock was maid of honor, and Miss Linda Johnston, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. Miss Jan Dickinson, the bride's niece, was flower girl. They wore identical street-length dresses of pink peau de sole with an Empire waistline, puffed sleeves and matching hairpiece. Each carried a single pink Sensation rose.

Mr. Johnston was his son's best man and Mike Snodgrass of Benton, the groomsmen. Ushers were Johnny Parker of Fayetteville and Denver L. Dickinson, Jr., brother of the bride. The bride's mother wore an aqua chiffon and lace afternoon dress, and the groom's mother was attired in a pink double-knit costume suit. Their corsages were pink cymbidium orchids.

Grandmothers of the couple, Mrs. A.T. Johnston of Conway and Mrs. Dennis Dickinson of Prescott were white carnations.

A reception at the Heritage House followed the ceremony. The serving table, overlaid with a linen cloth, held a silver centerpiece of pink and white carnations. Those in the house party wore pink Sensation roses.

Mrs. Max Bruce poured the punch. Mrs. Joe Shoen served the cake, and Mrs. Bill Powell, Jr. of Linden, Tex., was in charge of the bride's book. Other members of the house party included Misses Gayna Clark, Susan White, and Nancy Martindale.

For travel the bride planned her orchid on a navy suit enhanced by navy and gold trimming and matching accessories. After a wedding trip to Chattanooga, Tenn., the newlyweds will be at home in Benton at 2106 Military Road.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wolse, Benton; Mrs. Martha Johnston King, Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shoen, El Dorado; Mrs. Corine Birkhead and Mrs. C.B. Cooper, Arkadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Powell, Jr., Linden, Texas.

Queen of the 1970 GTAAH at Hendrix College

Susan Turner, escorted by David Jones, a senator formerly of Hope, is being introduced as Queen of the 1970 GTAAH at Hendrix College. On her right is Rison and runner-up for queen; senior maid of Hope.

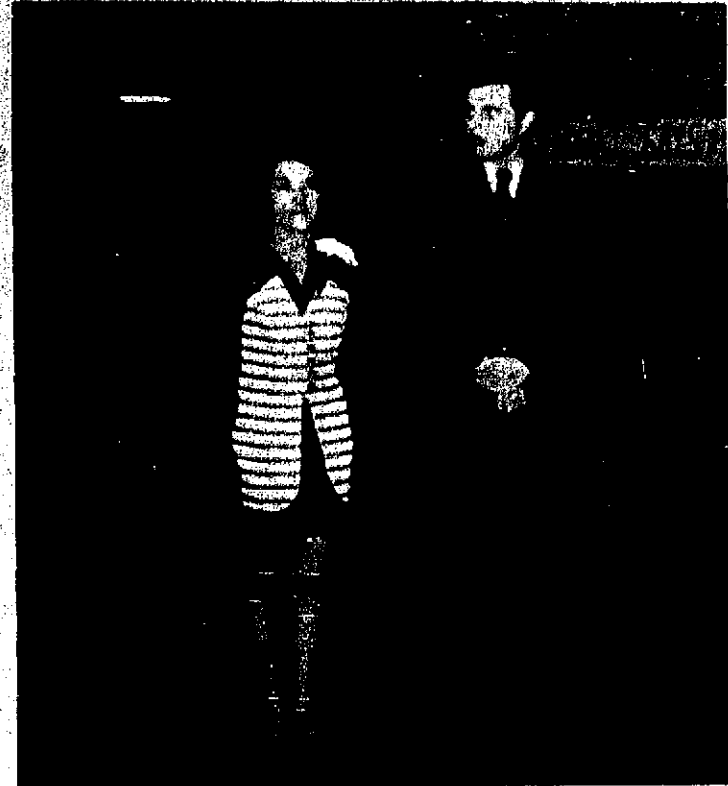

Susan Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McDowell Turner, was crowned Queen of GTAAH at Hendrix College last Thursday night. Susan Vinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Vinson, was a senior maid.

Other members of the court were senior Pam England of Rison, juniors Debby Bath and Mary Jane King, both of Conway; sophomores Regina Thomason of Hampton and Jane Case of England; and freshmen Susan Cloninger of Fort Smith and Lois Kincaid of Richmond, Missouri. GTAAH is the name given to a weekend of social athletic activities at Hendrix much like homecoming activities elsewhere. The Indian-sounding name comes from a favorite administrative expression, "Good Things Are Happening At Hendrix."

Queen Susan graduated from Hope High School in 1966 and is a senior art major at Hendrix. She is a member of Cardinal Key national women's honorary, Alpha Psi, and served as dormitory president. She was nominated for "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," and is art editor for the campus literary magazine, POTPOURRI. She was also chosen for the "Miss Hendrix Sweetheart."

Suzanne Vinson also graduated from Hope High in 1966 and is a senior elementary education major at Hendrix. She is a member of Cardinal Key, Women's Executive Council, Student National Education Association, and was president of Galloway Hall last year.

The Queen and her court were presented as the finale of a special program initiating the weekend's events in Staples Auditorium. Ronnie Nyborg, president of the Student Senate, made the presentation.

Larry Don Wright, junior senator from Hope, escorted Maid

Upset Tide Hits Seeded Tennis Stars

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Seeded players Arthur Ashe, Stan Smith, Tom Okker and Clark Graebner were swept up in a tide of upsets Wednesday in the National Indoor Open Tennis Championships.

Only three of eight seeds remain and one, Tony Roche, may be scratched due to injury.

Advancing to the quarter-finals were world champion Rod Laver who defeated Torben Ulrich, 6-4, 6-1 in his initial match, and second domestic seed Cliff Richey, who beat Manuel Santana of Spain 7-5, 6-3.

Rumanians Ilie Nastase and Ion Tiriac provided two of the big upsets. The swift Nastase tripped Ashe, America's number two player, 8-6, 5-7, 6-2, and Tiriac surprised Tom Okker of the Netherlands, 6-3, 7-5. Smith, the U.S. champion, fell to England's Roger Taylor, 6-6, 2-6, 6-3.

New Yorker Graebner won a split decision from tournament officials who wanted to eject him for "use of obscene language" but dropped a 12-10, 6-3 verdict to Ismail El Shafel of Egypt.

Laver, who sat through the first two rounds on a bye and an opponent's default, was too strong for perennial Danish champion Ulrich.

Jane Case of England.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Q—What is the cause of myositis? What are the symptoms and what is the best treatment?

A—Myositis or inflammation of the muscles may be caused by an infection or a muscular strain that wasn't given a chance to heal. The victim has soreness aggravated by contracting the affected muscle. The first step in treatment is to remove the cause if possible. Hot packs or an electric pad applied for 20 to 30 minutes two or three times a day usually helps. In selected cases an injection of Celestane Soluspain into the muscle is beneficial.

Q—I have a swelling on the calf of my left leg. My doctor says it is a muscle. What would cause a muscle to "stick out"? Can anything be done for it?

A—Sometimes the fibrous sheath of a calf muscle ruptures due to injury or a congenital weakness and a bulge occurs. Surgical repair of these ruptures may be done but in most cases no treatment is necessary.

Q—What is the cause of muscle spasms? My doctor is giving me Robaxin. What does it do?

A—An electric current various diseases of the nervous system and nervous tension may cause muscle spasms. Robaxin is a muscle relaxant.

Q—Is it true that mineral oil, when rubbed on the skin, will neutralize estrogens if you are taking them by mouth? Will other things kill the estrogen effect?

A—Mineral oil will neither stimulate nor suppress the natural estrogens of the ones you are taking. Androgens (male hormones) tend to neutralize them.

Old Bridge World subscribers never die or drop their subscriptions. Back in 1937, Otto Feuer wrote from Europe to suggest the proper line of play by South. His letter was probably lost in the mails because there was no reply.

Edgar Kaplan reprinted the article in his 40th anniversary issue and Mr. Feuer wrote again from Jamaica, N.Y., in the hope that the correct analysis would finally be printed.

In the article, South made the hand by getting East to make the sort of mistake that only a near-expert would make. Mr. Feuer's method, as finally printed in the magazine, makes the hand by sheer power. Here is his line of play:

South takes his ace of spades and immediately leads the deuce of clubs. East wins with the seven and will probably return a spade.

Now South ruffs, plays out one high trump and continues with the ace and king of clubs. If clubs break, he draws the last trump and claims. Clubs don't break, but East has four clubs and the long trump, so South gets to ruff his nine of clubs in dummy and then claims.

What was the line of play used by the declarer in the article? He cashed two rounds of trumps and then led the deuce of clubs. East won with the seven-spots and came to the conclusion that South's hand included three clubs to the ace and a small heart. In that case, any return but a heart would subject West to a simple squeeze, so East led a heart and allowed South to discard his nine of clubs.

Senior Play Here on Friday Night

THE COP AND THE ANTHEM

LAST LEAF

"A Night With O. Henry" is the 1970 Senior Class Play to be presented in the Hope High auditorium Friday night, February 20, at eight o'clock. Making sure everything's all right with the patient in LAST LEAF are Roy Rogers (Phil Thorpe) a sculptor; Mary Ella Impson (Linda Thorpe) his wife; Mark Stephens (Dr. Mallory) an M.D.; Belinda Butler (Joanna Price) a very sick patient; Clay Lehman (Mr. Behrman) a painter; and Loretta Arrington (Sue Arendo) an aspiring artist.

Hilinks and cutups abound in THE COP AND THE ANTHEM as Lee Davis (Sandy) a tramp; Douglas Byrd (Gulseppe) a vegetable man; Doug Rogers (unlabeled) a policeman; Mark Stephens (Rev. Westphall) a clergyman; and Gary Hollis (Muldoon) a policeman perform.

Makes Sheriff's Hall of Fame

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Walter Mathis, 78, chief of police at Eudora, became the first person to be inducted into the Arkansas Sheriffs and Deputy Hall of Fame here Wednesday night.

Mathis was inducted during ceremonies at the Arkansas Sheriffs Association banquet. Mathis, police chief at Eudora for 32 years, was cited for his 36 years of law enforcement work.

Southerners Applaud Vote by Senate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Southern politicians and civil rights leaders have applauded Senate passage of an amendment sponsored by Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss.

The measure would make it national policy to enforce school desegregation uniformly throughout the nation.

"This is one time that I agree with Sen. Stennis," said Aaron Henry, Mississippi state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. "Segregation should not be the method of operation anywhere."

Gov. John Bell Williams of Mississippi called Wednesday a "historic day for the South."

"The lamp of liberty shines brighter and hope for the preservation of quality public education has taken a new life," he said in a telegram to Stennis.

"I've been in this fight for 15 years and many times I've almost given up but this is wonderful," said Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox. "I would like to see restoration of freedom of choice but I'll settle for the neighborhood school concept."

Bill Routon Endorses Stand Against Wells

Editor The Star: My congratulations on your editorial in Friday's issue (Feb. 13) of The Star concerning Hope's water situation. I am in full agreement with you on this matter.

The continued drilling of wells is obviously only a temporary solution to our municipal water problem. And, while this futile hand-to-mouth process is being pursued our agricultural enterprises, which are recognized as the very "meat" of our local economy, are being seriously jeopardized as a result. Our vast poultry industry is completely dependent on well water throughout the entire area, as are many livestock finishing operations, and all rural homes.

As we all know, our water table is dropping at an alarming rate, and this is being further accelerated by the increased numerous artesian (free-flowing) wells that existed throughout this county. However, as Hope continued to drill more and more municipal water wells these disappeared, and now we are having to renew or abandon many wells that have furnished water to rural Hempstead county for many years.

I am sure that I am speaking for all of rural Hempstead County when I beg of the City Government that they explore every avenue of obtaining municipal water from Millwood Lake before they drill more wells, which will jeopardize our agriculture as well as our property values. Would you buy a piece of agricultural real estate knowing that the future of its underground water supply is very questionable? Or would you buy a piece of urban real estate in a town whose basic economy is questionable? Honest answers to these questions can be extremely revealing. Yours very truly,

Wide Chasm Separates Superpowers

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

President Nixon's State of the World address and initial Soviet reaction to it illustrate what a dangerous world this is and how difficult it will be to make it less dangerous.

Clearly, a wide chasm separates the superpowers at a time when they are preparing to resume talks on how to limit weapons of mass destruction. The chasm has widened recently because of developments in the Middle East, where each is aware of the grave possibilities of a confrontation.

SALT, the strategic arms limitation talks, begin again in Vienna April 16. President Nixon seemed to advise Americans to take them with a grain of salt. He cautioned against "false euphoria," a suggestion that the prospects for the talks are severely limited.

The basic obstacle remains one of mutual distrust. The

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold front that was centered over Kansas this morning will probably be in Arkansas Friday morning.

No precipitation is associated with this front and it will only reinforce the cold air mass in the state, the Weather Bureau said.

Skies are to remain clear to partly cloudy over the state for the next few days, the bureau said.

Highs Wednesday ranged from 63 at Fayetteville to 75 at El Dorado and Texarkana.

Overnight lows included 16 at Harrison, 18 at Fayetteville, 24 at Fort Smith, 28 at Jonesboro, 29 at Little Rock, 31 at Memphis, 33 at Pine Bluff, 34 at Texarkana, and 36 at El Dorado.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

Finish Column, Take Out Rest of Garbage, Writer's Wife Yells

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarking a columnist gets tired of hearing—overhearing:

"What else do you besides write those little pieces for the paper. Really? Nothing at all?"

"When you finish your column drag, don't forget to take out the rest of the garbage."

"Where do you get most of your ideas—from old copies of the Police Gazette?"

"I think he used to write funnier before his hair started falling out."

"One of your columns I read last week really struck home with me. I wish I could recall now just what it was about, but whatever it was, it sure seemed to me at the time to hit the nail on the head."

"One of the nice things about your job, I guess, is that on the days you can't get on brains you can usually get on brass."

"Be careful what you say to him, or you may be surprised to find it in the paper tomorrow."

"I can't tell whether he's thinking or sleeping, but if he

Senators for Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright and John L. McClellan, D. Ark., voted Wednesday to support the Stennis amendment to require enforcement of school desegregation equally throughout the nation.

The amendment was proposed by Sen. John Stennis, D. Miss., and passed 56 to 38.

State Prison 'Dark, Evil', Judge Says

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley Wednesday declared Arkansas' penitentiary system unconstitutional, saying it was "a dark and evil world" where convicts had no assurance that they would not be killed.

"Apart from physical danger, confinement in the penitentiary involves living under degrading and disgusting conditions," Henley said.

The judge ordered the state to bring conditions at the two state prison farms up to "constitutional tolerability" or close them.

South Would Eliminate Court Power to Order Busing of Students

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators, flushed with a major victory in their fight to slow down Dixie school desegregation, sought today to strike the power of federal courts to order busing to achieve integration.

Pending as the Senate resumes its two-week-old debate on the multimillion dollar education bill is an amendment of Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., stating simply that no court or federal agency would have the power to order such busing.

This proposal appeared to have less support than the amendment which gave the South its first big civil rights victory in years Wednesday with the 56-38 adoption of a provision by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to provide a uniform national policy on school desegregation.

The rider requires the government to attack neighborhood school desegregation in the North as vigorously as it has moved against legal segregation in Southern school systems.

However, some Dixie senators conceded the victory might be more psychological than real.

They expressed far greater interest in the more direct relief the Ervin proposal would provide.

Stennis commented he would "not expect any great immediate things to happen in the North as the result of this amendment." But he and other Southerners made it quite clear they hoped it would exert enough pressure on the North to slow down the school integration drive all over the nation.

Civil rights supporters who fought the amendment declared its real purpose was to allow Southern officials to blunt the push to end their region's dual school systems.

These senators said the Dixie officials would contend that desegregation orders could not be enforced against them until comparable progress was made against de facto—neighborhood—segregation in the North.

The Stennis amendment was adopted with votes of 29 Democrats and 27 Republicans. It was opposed by 24 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

Fire Guts Fort Smith Business

Big Bombers Hit Targets in South

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers went back to targets in South Vietnam today after 48 hours of heavy attacks in Laos. All 75 of the Strategic Air Command's big bombers in Southeast Asia had been diverted to the Laotian front.

Sources in Saigon said B52 strikes were continuing against North Vietnamese supply depots and the Ho Chi Minh trail through eastern Laos. But the sources said the attacks were not of the magnitude of those flown Tuesday and Wednesday.

The U.S. Command announced two B52 missions in South Vietnam between midnight and 6 a.m. today, a total of 10 planes dropping 300 tons of bombs on base camps and troop concentrations in the western Mekong Delta. The targets were five miles from the Cambodian border and 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

Informed sources said the big bombers for the time being were flying their usual number of missions, about seven every 24 hours in South Vietnam and about two every 24 hours in Laos. This means 35 planes dropping about 1,000 tons of bombs in South Vietnam, and 10 planes dropping about 300 tons across the border.

From time to time more missions are flown in Laos than in South Vietnam in efforts to slow North Vietnamese infiltration of troops and supplies before they are in position for an offensive. But the total diversion to that target area this week apparently was due to the North Vietnamese offensive launched last week against the Plain of Jars, a strategic communications hub in northeastern Laos. U.S. fighter-bombers fly regularly in support of Laotian forces there, but sources in Saigon said the B52s were used Tuesday and Wednesday for the first time in the Plain of Jars area.

The U.S. Command never announces planes lost in Laos since it does not admit that U.S. planes are flying combat missions there. But it did announce the loss of three more helicopters in South Vietnam with 19 troops killed and three injured. One was shot down 20 miles north of Saigon, one farther northeast near the Cambodian border, and the other had mechanical trouble 78 miles south-east of Da Nang.

A total of 6,110 American helicopters and fixed-wing planes have been reported lost in the war.

Governor May Change View on Busing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller indicated Wednesday that he might change his position on busing children to achieve racial balance in schools.

The governor said he wanted to get a clarification from officials of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on the federal government's position.

Rockefeller hoped to meet in Washington today with Robert Finch, HEW secretary, although he does not have an appointment with him.

Rockefeller said that since the Nixon administration's position on busing was not clear it was hard "to maintain my position."

He has said previously that his position was the same as that of a resolution adopted by the Southern Governors Conference. The resolution urges "restraint and good judgment" in the use of busing.

Rockefeller at one time had added that busing was a "useful tool" to achieve racial balance.

The governor met behind closed doors Wednesday with a small delegation of Pine Bluff residents who are members of Freedom Inc., the Texas-based organization that advocates the "freedom-of-choice" method of desegregation.

Mut' Asks for More Time

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Guy H. "Mut" Jones of Conway, a lawyer, has asked for additional time from the state Supreme Court to file a brief.

Jones said he needed an indeterminate amount of time because of the special session that will be held next month. The brief is to be filed in an appeal of the conviction of Bobby Gene Tarkington who has been sentenced to 30 years from Pulaski County on a charge of rape.

Courthouse Is Historic Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said Wednesday the Department of Interior has designated the courthouse at Powhatan, Ark., (Lawrence County) as a national historic site.

The courthouse has been entered into the National Register of Historic Places, which is part of a nation wide historic preservation program.

Government Wine Split House Poised Decision in Conviction of 5 for Causing Riot

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

CHICAGO (AP) — The government has won a split verdict in its prosecution of seven men accused of inciting violence at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention, but defense lawyers plan to contest the validity of the federal anti-riot law in higher courts.

A U.S. District Court jury convicted five men Wednesday of crossing state lines with the intent to incite rioting during the convention in August 1968.

But the jury of 10 women and 2 men acquitted all seven defendants of conspiracy to promote the bloody confrontations between police and antiwar demonstrators.

Two defendants, Lee Weiner and John R. Froines, were cleared of conspiracy and of a charge of teaching the use of incendiary devices. Froines and Weiner both resided in Chicago during the summer of 1968 and were not charged in the indictment with crossing state lines to incite rioting.

Convicted were David T. Delinger, 54; Jerry C. Rubin, 31; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, 31, and Richard C. "Rennie" Davis, 29.

Each man could be sentenced to a maximum of five years in prison and fined $10,000.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman did not set a date for sentencing.

All seven defendants are being held in the Cook County Jail on contempt sentences imposed by Judge Hoffman last weekend. The sentences ranged from 2½ months to 2½ years. The judge has refused to grant bail on the contempt charges pending appeal.

The defense lawyers, William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass, also were given prison terms for contemptuous conduct during the five-month trial — Kunstler 4 years 13 days, Weinglass 20 months 5 days. The judge stayed execution of their sentences to May 4.

Weinglass said late Wednesday that he hoped to file a motion by Friday seeking to have admitted to bail the five men convicted of inciting to riot.

He said appeals on the convictions themselves will be filed "as soon as possible."

Although the jury acquitted all seven men on the conspiracy charge, Weinglass said the conviction on the second count would provide an equal test of the federal statute's constitutionality.

Former Bank Official Is Indicted

LITTLE ROCK-Harlan Lane, 42, former board chairman and chief executive officer of Union National Bank, was indicted Tuesday by the federal Grand Jury for the Eastern District of Arkansas on a charge of receiving an illegal fee in connection with a $1 million loan made by the bank. The indictment was made public Wednesday.

Union National Bank made a loan October 18, 1969 to Wheel Air, Inc. of Blumont, West Va., which buys, sells and leases airplanes. The indictment alleges that Lane received a fee from Wheel Air "for procuring" the loan.

Federal banking laws prohibit a bank officer from receiving benefits directly or indirectly for causing his bank to make a loan. The maximum penalty for a violation is a year prison sentence, a $5,000 fine or both. The indictment did not list the amount of the fee Lane is alleged to have received.

Charles E. Wheeler III, 26, owner of Wheel Air, said Tuesday that he paid $100,000 to Lane, Inc. a Little Rock business firm in which Lane owns 30 percent of the stock, as a guarantee by La-Co that the $1 million would be repaid.

He said he also paid $25,000 to La-Co for use in paying broker's fees in locating $1 million in deposits so Union would have sufficient funds to make the loan. Lane declined to comment.

Stephens 'Out of Politics', It Says Here

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — W.R. "Will" Stephens, president and chairman of the board of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., predicts that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller will not seek a third term.

Stephens, who has been prominent in Democratic party affairs, said his prediction was based on Rockefeller's promise in his first term that he did not aspire to more than two terms.

Pasadena Plan to Integrate Far-Reaching

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A school integration plan for Pasadena which a school district attorney says is the most far-reaching of any city in the nation is in the hands of a federal judge awaiting his public appraisal at a March 4 hearing.

The government-ordered plan was submitted Wednesday to U.S. Dist. Court Judge Manuel L. Real in response to his Jan. 20 ruling that Pasadena public schools must be balanced racially by next September.

The 48-page document envisions mandatory busing of students and pupils, establishment of a single high school and increased recruiting of teachers from minority groups.

Attorney John A. Miller, representing the school district, termed the projected changes the most far-reaching "of any city in the country."

Miller said he expected no major objections from the U.S. Justice Department, plaintiff in the government's first school discrimination suit to come to trial on the West Coast.
